U.S. Supreme Court Denies Biden-Harris Effort to Overturn Injunction in Missouri-Arkansas Lawsuit Against Unlawful Student Loan Forgiveness Attempt

Griffin: 'No matter how many times or how many ways they try, the Biden-Harris administration can't circumvent the law'

LITTLE ROCK – Attorney General Tim Griffin today issued the following statement after the U.S. Supreme Court denied an application from the Biden-Harris administration to vacate an injunction blocking the administration's unlawful student-loan forgiveness program:

“No matter how many times or how many ways they try, the Biden-Harris administration can't circumvent the law and unilaterally cancel student loans. For the federal government to take such action, Congress would have to vote on it.

“This is another win in the lawsuit I filed with Missouri Attorney General Andrew Bailey.”

The Supreme Court's order today declined to vacate a preliminary injunction that was issued by the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit on August 9.
